

BRIDE-TO-BE DIES OF POISONING AFTER YOUNG LOVER DROWNS

Pair Had Planned July 4 Marriage Before Death Ended Midnight Swim

Her July 4 wedding plans aborted with the Tuesday night drowning of her 19-year-old fiance, a 21-year-old woman followed her lover in death less than 24 hours later.

Apparently a victim of self-administered poison, Miss Dorothy Baker, 1820 Yandes, died at 7:50 Wednesday night in General Hospital. She was to have been married Saturday to Henry Brandon, 2020 Alvord.

Brandon was one of an estimated 15 or 20 persons who climbed a high wire fence to enter the closed, unlighted pool at Douglass Park shortly after midnight Tuesday.

Miss Baker was arrested after the drowning on a charge of drunkenness and ordered into court Wednesday morning.

After she received a suspended fine of $1 and costs, the grief-stricken woman told this reporter she had planned to go to Kentucky this weekend to marry Brandon.

"I wish I had drowned with him," she said. "I wasn't drunk last night, but I think I will go home and get drunk now."

After making a statement at the coroner's office, Miss Baker went home, where she told her mother, Dorothy, "I don't know why he had to go like that. I'd rather have gone swimming with him and died like he did."

She then went to her mother's room and lay across the bed. The mother, Mrs. Virginia Baker, 39, said the girl had been upstairs several minutes when she called her and said, "Mama, I'm going to leave you soon."

"What are you talking about, Dorothy?" Mrs. Baker wanted to know. The girl then started vomiting.

"What did you do?" the mother said. "Nothing," came the reply. "I just drank some poison."

THE DISTRAUGHT MOTHER called police about 4:35 and an ambulance rushed the girl to General Hospital.

Mrs. Baker said she sat with her daughter in the receiving ward at General for nearly 45 minutes before a doctor finally came by and asked what she wanted. The mother explained that her daughter had taken a quantity of sodium fluoride, an antiseptic and vermin killer.

After the girl was rushed into a receiving room to have her stomach pumped the girl reportedly said, "Mama, I don't know why I did this. All I want to do is go home because I'm hungry."

The doctor turned away for a few seconds to make an entry on his report, and when he looked back, the girl had stopped breathing. Attempts to revive her proved fruitless and she was pronounced dead at 7:50.

When she talked with a Recorder reporter Wednesday morning, Miss Baker gave no indication she planned to take her life.

She said her fiance was already "high" when he came by her home Tuesday night. The couple picked up a friend, 15-year-old Helen Jones, 2019 Sheldon, and all three had some wine and whiskey before they decided to go to the pool about midnight.

"When we got there a lot of young children were already in the pool," she stated. "I begged Henry not to get into the pool. In fact we had an argument about it, and I got mad, and stayed in the car."

"They were gone several minutes when somebody ran out to the car and told me Henry had been in the water for a long time and they thought he might be drowning."

The girl said she jumped out of the car and ran across the street to a cousin's home and had her call police. When she got back

FRIEND IN NEED

Deserted Mom Wants Family Back Together

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We at The Recorder believe that our community should be made aware of the dire need which exists in the city from time to time when disaster strikes an unprepared family, as we feel many persons will want to take part in helping families afflicted by calamity. In an effort to be of public service, periodically we shall call your attention to cases which, after our own investigation, we believe are worthy of your consideration.)

"I just want to get my family back together," a young Eastside mother of five, seemingly straining to hold back tears, told The Recorder this week.

The young woman whose sole desire is to reunite her five children, four of whom are presently living in foster homes, said her husband unexpectedly deserted her a year ago last May and is living somewhere in Detroit. She said she hasn't heard from him since he left.

She said she is presently living in a furnished room with her youngest child, 10 months old, on $64 a month supplied by the welfare department.

The 25-year-old mother said welfare officials had promised to release the other four children to her as soon as she could find a suitable place to live.

"I need everything that it takes to make a home for five wonderful children," she said. She could use furniture and clothing to fit boys 7, 5, 4 and 10 (Continued on Page 2)

Eleven adults and six juveniles — all Negroes — were arrested early Saturday morning after an interracial gang fight near E. St. Clair and the Monon Railroad, during which three persons were injured.

Homicide investigators were having a tough time this week trying to separate the hoodlums from the innocent bystanders after arresting officers apparently gathered up all the Negroes in the vicinity and hustled them down to the city lockup.

Although practically none of the youths arrested were willing to admit taking part in the near-riot, Sgt. James Dabner, homicide investigator, said all the Negroes showed up for the preliminary hearing.

NONE OF THE WHITE MEN involved showed up either for Saturday's preliminary hearing or Tuesday's continuation. Dabner said the men had been subpoenaed into court Tuesday and he had expected some of them would be arrested.

A new trial was set for Aug. 4 in Municipal Court Room 6.

L. V. Hoskins, 25, 1823 Brookside, told police he was parked at St. Clair and the railroad with Miss Patricia Brewington, 21, 708 N. Alabama, when four youths walked up to the car.

One of them flashed a cigarette lighter in his face and ordered him out of the car while another grabbed Miss Brewington's billfold containing $13, it was reported.

Hoskins said he got out of the car and struck one of the boys over the head with a lug wrench. The youths fled and Hoskins and his companion drove away.

The white couple then went to a tavern on Massachusetts, picked up five friends and returned to the scene, allegedly to look for a lost billfold.

Meanwhile, the injured youth and his friends went to a party at 703 Dorman and returned with a crowd of boys estimated as large as 40-45. Arriving simultaneously at the scene of the original altercation, the two groups "went to war."

During the blitzkrieg, Hoskins was stabbed in the stomach, Theodore Sims was knifed in the thigh and Roland Bryant, 14, 633 Hud- (Continued on Page 2)

Action Planned Against Cops, Owner in Restaurant Bias

Actions against two police officers and a restaurant owner were being planned this week after a race disturbance early Sunday morning at the Steak Stop restaurant, 16th and College.

Atty. Frank R. Beckwith said he would file the actions on behalf of Mesdames Juanita Royster, 32, 1536 Cornell, and Doris Harwell, 32, 911 E. 15th, alleged victims of discrimination at the Eastside eatery.

The women said they went to the restaurant about 2 Sunday morning and ordered cheeseburgers and coffee. They planned to take the sandwiches home, they said, but thought they would drink a cup of coffee while waiting for the sandwiches to be prepared.

A waiter, however, told them they couldn't drink the coffee there but would have to take it out.

Just then, a white woman, also a customer, spoke up, it was reported. "Why I never heard of anything like this," the woman was quoted as saying. "Why can't they eat here like anyone else?"

When one of the women said she might report the incident to the NAACP, she was told by the manager to go right ahead and tell them, Beckwith said. The manager then called police.

OFFICERS OF CAR 20, later identified as Thomas Bugg and A. Kennedy, reportedly "used all manner of indecent, vile and profane language" against the two Negroes, attracting a large crowd of Negroes and whites and creating a near-riot.

Although they threatened to lock the women up, no arrests were made.

No action whatsoever was taken on the alleged refusal of service, the complainants say.

Beckwith said he would file demands for disciplinary action against Bugg and Kennedy with the Board of Safety on Thursday afternoon.

A suit charging discrimination in place of public accommodation, he said, would be lodged Monday in Municipal Court Room 2 against William Houchins, restaurant owner.

Just over a year ago, on June 7, The Recorder reported a similar discrimination complaint against the same Steak Stop.

Mesdames Eunice Smith and Joan Soules, both of 1636 N. College, went into the restaurant, it was reported, and ordered two bowls of chili. Told they would have to take the food out, the women insisted on eating it there.

Not to be outdone, the waiter brought them wooden spoons to eat with, stating, "I can bring you silver spoons, but it'll cost you a dollar extra," the report said.

Beckwith indicated the present suit might get into the federal courts. "If it does," he said, "the complaint will be made by these two women on behalf of all the citizens of Indianapolis."

Woman Dies Under Wheels Of Moving Bus

A middle-aged woman trying to catch her bus as it pulled out of the bus terminal Tuesday was crushed to death when she lost her footing and fell under the rear wheels of the cumbersome vehicle.

Mrs. Meudie Adams, 58, 3417 N. Kenwood, was on her way to work at a furniture store on W. Washington about 9:15 Tuesday. Witnesses say she had missed the Drexel Gardens bus and was running alongside it when she slipped and fell just as she reached the front door.

The right rear wheels of the Indianapolis Transit bus passed over her head, the upper third of her body and both legs at the hips.

SHE DIED INSTANTLY of a crushed skull, multiple internal injuries, a fractured pelvis and severe lacerations of both legs. She was identified by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lizzie Adams, 55, 3419 N. Kenwood.

Driver Delbert E. Mynatt, 37, RR 2, told police he didn't realize he had run over the woman but (Continued on Page 3)

Better Schools Committee Elects Interracial Nominating Group

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

"If you can't join 'em, lick 'em."

With this switch on the old political maxim, expressed by one of the speakers Monday, the Committee for Better Schools was in business to offer Indianapolis voters a choice in the School Board election this fall.

The new group will nominate a slate of candidates to oppose those named by the Citizens School Committee, which has elected every School Board since 1928.

One of the complaints against the Citizens committee is that it is a "private club" limited to 200 members who must be approved by the 21-member board of directors.

former Parent-Teachers Association Council president who was chairman of Monday's meeting at the State Board of Health Building, said he had tried to join the Citizens committee but was turned down.

Other civic workers who had been members of the Citizens committee charged the nominees of that group were chosen "by a small and secret screening committee." This year, they declared, general members of the Citizens group were not even given the privilege of "rubber-stamping" the choices.

In contrast, the Better Schools group got down to work with the maximum public participation.

Membership is open to all residents of Indianapolis who subscribe to the committee's purposes and pay dues of not less than $1.

ABOUT 200 PERSONS, including a considerable number of Negro school patrons, took part in Monday's meeting. One driving force behind the new movement is the fact that the Citizens committee failed to nominate a Negro to succeed Grant W. Hawkins, whose term expires this year. Indeed, Mr. Hawkins is the only Negro nominated by the Citizens in their 30 years of activity.

Many voters of both races feel that the absence of a Negro and fair-minded whites from the School Board would be a calamity in this critical period of school integration.

CARRIERS LEARN TO SAVE: A large group of Recorder carriers opened savings accounts at Indiana National Bank on Monday as part of The Recorder's program to install ideas of thrift into the minds of the city's future leaders. Given dime-savers several weeks ago, the carriers were encouraged to save $2.50 from weekly newspaper sales, the paper itself donating the additional 50 cents required to fill the saver. Their savings cards filled, nearly 50 youths taxied down to the bank to open their accounts. They were also treated to a movie party at the Indiana theater as part of the venture The Recorder hopes to make a regular thing. (Recorder photo by Bill Raspberry)

Regional Republicans Name Detroit as Vice-Chairman

DENVER (AP)—The election of a Negro as regional vice chairman of the National Young Republican Federation climaxed the five-day convention held here recently.

John H. Smith, a Detroit construction inspector, was chosen to supervise all Young Republican activities in Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana after Negro delegates refused to accept any Jim Crow position.

Smith defeated Wally Steffan, YR state chairman from Columbus, as an interracial Georgia delegation, led by Mrs. Timothy Gilham, Atlanta, led all Southern Young Republican delegations except Mississippi in supporting the Negro candidate.

Smith is the first Negro to serve as a regional officer.

Charles Gaines, Chicago, outgoing Negro vice-chairman-at-large, led the move to abolish the bi-annual position because, he said, "I had nothing to do."

ALL OTHER VICE-CHAIRMEN supervise activities in two to four states for two years, but the vice-chairman-at-large, who has been a Negro since 1949, had no states to supervise.

After Gaines recommended abolishment of the vice-chairman-at-large, Gilham withdrew as candidate for the position and asked the mixed Georgia delegation to support Smith as head of the Fifth Region.

The vote was taken to the floor when Ohio refused to go along with the plan and ran Steffan against Smith. With Negro delegates William O. Stewart and Gaines of Illinois lining up support for Smith, the Negro's election was assured when Texas, North Carolina and Maryland decided to go along with Georgia.

EARLIER in the convention Georgia split with the Solid South to support Sam Young of Illinois as national chairman, despite his strong stand on civil rights. Young was beaten by Ned Cushing of Kansas, who was supported by Ed Sexton, former Negro chairman of the Midwest Council of Young Republicans.

The NYRF voted to favor "a program of positive policies in civil rights" in its platform, but tabled a resolution urging support of the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

Vice-President Richard M. Nixon delivered the keynote address at the Shirley-Savoy Hotel and then greeted the 900 delegates at a swank reception in Denver's new "mile high" Petroleum building.

Drowning

to the pool, she said, Brandon's swimming companions had pulled him onto the bank and fled.

"They were his friends," she kept repeating, "and they let him drown."

Sgt. John A. Hudson, head of the police rescue squad rushed to the Eastside park, was ordered by Inspector Daniel Veza not to spare a thing in trying to revive the unconscious youth.

"Use all the oxygen if you have to," he ordered.

But after nearly an hour of artificial respiration, exhausting four tanks of oxygen, Brandon was pronounced dead by Deputy Coroner James Anderson. The victim was identified by a sister, Mrs. Pauline Baker, 26, 1947 Alford.

Dr. Lawrence A. Lewis, who performed the autopsy, said death was due to drowning, presumably accidental. He said his investigation revealed an injury on the very top of Brandon's head.

Evidently, he said, the boy struck his head on the bottom or concrete side of the pool, perhaps rendering himself unconscious. There was nothing to indicate foul play, he told The Recorder.

POLICE RESCUE EFFORTS were temporarily delayed when the officers had to cut a hole in the wire fence around the pool in order to get the rescuer into the pool.

Questioned at length by Patrolman Donald Lee Baker, Brandon's fiancée and the Jones girl were unable to give the names of the boys who had been with the victim. Both, however, said they would be able to recognize them on sight or from photos.

Twice during the interrogation, Miss Baker fell to the concrete walk around the pool. Her young companion sobbingly tried to reassure her, "He's not dead. I know he's not. They'll revive him."

Both were arrested, the Baker girl on a charge of drunkenness and her young friend for curfew violation.

In Municipal Court Room 3 Wednesday morning, Miss Baker told Judge Ernie S. Burke she and Brandon had planned to go to Kentucky on Saturday night to get married. She said they became engaged Wednesday of last week. The girl admitted having been drinking, but denied she was drunk. She was found guilty and given a suspended fine and sentence.

Services for Brandon will be held Monday at 2 in the chapel of King and King Funeral Home, with burial in New Crown.

Maybe Reggie Vaughn, 64, 2236 Massachusetts, should try his hand at building a better rat trap.

He was arrested Sunday night for trying to get rid of the pests with a 20-gauge shotgun.

In addition to the charge of firing within the city limits, Vaughn was also slated for possession of the switch-blade knife found in his pocket.

son, was hospitalized with a fractured skull.

Hoskins was reported in serious condition Wednesday in General Hospital; Bryant was in good condition at Methodist, and Sims had been treated and released.

NOT A SINGLE WINDOW was left in one piece in Hoskins' car after the hail of bricks, rocks and which marked the pitched battle.

Mrs. Lucille Sturges, 49, 1019 E. Ninth, a resident of the neighborhood where the fight took place, told police she was dragged into an alley by a group of Negro youths who released her unhurt.

One police officer said he believed the Negro "gang" had gathered to look for trouble, basing his conclusion on the fact that the boys were from different parts of the city. He apparently did not know about the party on Dorman.

An almost hysterical white woman pointed out every Negro she saw as being involved in the melee, it was reported. A Recorder photographer was nearly arrested with the gang when an officer failed to notice his camera.

Police say there were five men and two women in Hoskins' car when the gang fight started. They were identified as Hoskins, Elmore Howell, 30, 1836 Brookside; Samuel Fitzwater, 23, 705 Massachusetts; Ray Oliver, age and address unknown; one other unidentified man; Miss Brewington and Miss Jean Williams, 25, 344 N. Arsenal.

Arrested for disorderly conduct and assault and battery with intent to rob were Thomas Lee Smith, 18, 2909 Rader; William Ladd, 18, 2415 Schofield; Curtis Crain, 2834 N. Capitol; Carl Childress, 20, 149 Bright; Kenneth Williams, 18, 1415 Carrollton; James Tucker, 19, 2151 Highland; William Caldwell, 20, 2315 N. Illinois; Lucius Suggs, 19, 2407 N. Oxford; R. D. McCray, 19, 618 N. Pine; James Rowe, 21, 1944 Ludlow, and J. W. Prewitt, 18, 437 Blake.

Prewitt had been in court on the preceding Thursday on preliminary charges of vehicle taking and larceny. Both charges were dismissed.

Six younger boys were sent to Juvenile Aid Division for disorderly conduct, assault and battery with intent to rob and violation of curfew.

Purse-Snatching Suspect Faces Possible Life Term

A 23-year-old man suspected of purse-snatching was held under $27,500 bond and bound to the grand jury on June 25 on charges of robbery and inflicting injury in a robbery, the latter carrying a mandatory life term.

Earlbern K. Jordan, 3409 N. Capitol, was arrested on June 13 for the first time, when a woman said that she was slugged and her purse taken the night before by someone who stepped from a phone booth at 23rd and Central.

He was freed after appearing in court June 13 on lack of evidence. But he was rearrested when two other women identified him as the man who slugged them and took their purses on June 9 and 10.

NAACP Youth Tag Day, Carnival to Aid Delegates

To help offset transportation expenses to the national NAACP convention July 13-20 in New York City, members of the NAACP Youth Council have planned a "Tag Day" and street carnival for July 3.

"We, the youth of the NAACP, are appealing to you," Avis Bell, Tag Day chairman, urged. "We are asking you for aid—financial aid. We need your support and financial backing."

He explained that the Indianapolis Youth Council, largest in the state and including the state president, Robert Short, in its ranks, has pledged itself to send 22 delegates to the forthcoming convention.

Help from adult Indianapolis is vital, he said, if the council is to make good its pledge. Bell stressed that the convention trip was not to be "just a pleasure cruise" but that youth are involved in a program of interest to all Americans, particularly members of minority groups—the struggle for first-class citizenship.

ADULTS DESIRING TO AID in the council's efforts were to be given a chance to buy Youth Council tags all day Friday. Or, should a council member fail to get in touch with them, Bell said contributions would be received at 608 W. 30th.

"Or if you call me at WA. 6-2788," Bell added, "I'll gladly come by and pick up your contribution." The street carnival, set for Friday night, was to be held on Barnes between 35th and 36th.

Wallace Hollins is Youth Council president.

To Die for Rape

J. Henry Johnson told the jury, "Equal justice must be meted out to all regardless of race."

Sheriff J. E. McTeer testified that Davis admitted attacking the woman. The officer quoted Davis as telling him he sometimes had "an overpowering sex urge and got pleasure out of using force with women."

McTeer said it was the first case in his 33 years as sheriff in which a white man was charged with raping a Negro woman.

Davis denied during the trial that he admitted attacking the woman. He told the court she consented.

Davis' attorney, Ben Carter of Beaufort, was expected to file an appeal.

Twenty-four hours later in the same court room and before the same judge a jury of six Negroes and six whites convicted a 20-year-old Negro who was "seeking revenge" in the attempted rape of a young white housewife.

Israel Sharpe was convicted of breaking in the home of the 21-year-old housewife on May 6 and attempting to attack her before her screams frightened him away.

Under South Carolina law conviction of rape or attempted rape without a mercy recommendation carries an automatic death penalty. The jury did not recommend mercy.

Henry Eckles

Services for Henry Eckles, 70, were held June 29 at Peoples Funeral Home, with burial in Floral Park cemetery. He died June 25 in a local nursing home.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mary Tibbs, and a brother, Thomas Eckles.

Jewish Council Speaker Here Hits 'Black Belts' in North

By MARCUS C. STEWART, JR.
Rigid policies of exclusion "just as effective as the segregation laws of the South" have forced Negroes in the North to live in overcrowded "black belts" that are fast destroying the nation's major cities, an authority on race relations declared here last week.

Will Maslow of New York, general counsel of the American Jewish Congress, said quick action was needed to "break up the racially segregated 'black belts' areas that threaten to transform our cities—bearers of our culture—into a collection of squalid slums."

Maslow spoke at the annual meeting of the Indianapolis Jewish Community Relations Council, held June 24 at Bethel Temple.

Pointing to the "tremendous flight" of Negroes to the major Northern urban centers, Maslow cited statistics indicating that in the past 10 years the 14 largest metropolitan areas of the country have shown an increase in their Negro populations of some 65 percent.

"Today there are one million Negroes in New York City—more than any other city in the country," Maslow noted. He said there are more Negroes in Chicago than in Atlanta, more in Detroit than in Birmingham, more in Los Angeles than in Richmond.

Because the Negro population is increasing at a much more rapid pace than housing available to them, Maslow declared, "The inevitable result is the creation of stagnant, blighted slums—spreading like a cancer with deleterious economic, social and political consequences."

The American Jewish Congress leader proposed a five-point program to halt the growth of Negro slums in the country's major cities:

1. Anti-discrimination housing laws—coupled with neighborhood education programs—to create a free real estate market and break the "vicious pattern" of segregation in housing.

2. More low-cost and middle-income housing to provide the additional housing accommodations "desperately needed" by the Negro community.

3. Funds to renovate metropolitan downtown areas to keep present white populations from moving out and to encourage the return of those who have moved to the suburbs.

4. Steps to encourage Negro and Puerto Rican populations on the move to settle in smaller cities.

5. Generous public support for mass transportation facilities—to halt the flight of trade and business from the cities.

Maslow is a lecturer at the College of the City of New York and director of the Department of

Better Schools

Complete "town meeting democracy" was the rule Monday as the meeting went through its proposed by-laws point by point, with full freedom of discussion and amendment from the floor.

A NOMINATING COMMITTEE was then elected—again with free and lively participation—to prepare a slate of nominees for officers of the organization.

This interracial group is headed by Jacob R. Roberts, UAW leader who is vice-president of the Indiana State Industrial Union Council (AFL-CIO).

Other members are: Mrs. Henry J. Richardson Jr., of the Mayor's Human Rights Commission; Harold O. Hatcher, Association for Merit Employment; Mrs. Leonard Pearson, prominent PTA worker; Albert Daniels, Mrs. Harold Stadler and Mrs. William I. Brown.

Due to the strong emphasis on freedom of discussion, the meeting lasted more than three hours. At its close Dr. Schreiber pointed out that the committee must work fast in the coming weeks, in order to select its nominees and get them on the ballot.

"Each candidate must be endorsed by a petition with 300 signatures," he said, "and you can sign only one petition. The deadline is 40 days before the election."

THE PRESENT CHALLENGE to the Citizens School Committee began with a "thorough study" by the League of Women Voters, according to a statement issued at the meeting.

The League made several recommendations to the Citizens group, including the adoption of "a definite policy on membership," non-partisan status of officers, definite terms of office and methods of election of officers, and greater citizen participation.

These recommendations were endorsed also by the Indianapolis Council of Parent-Teacher Associations and the Indianapolis section of the National Council of Jewish Women. However, it was charged, most of them were rejected by the Citizens committee.

THE STATEMENT ALSO blasted the Citizens' slate as being unrepresentative.

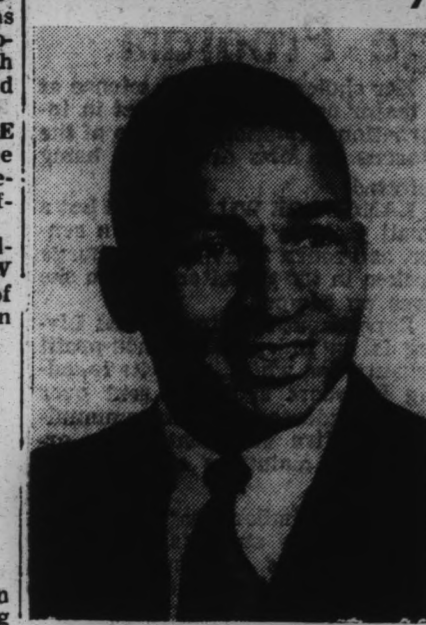

"An examination of the seven candidates as to residence reveals that five of them live north of 44th street... Five candidates live in a section which represents only 10 percent of the city's population."

Dr. Eugene Taylor Opens Office to Practice Dentistry

DR. EUGENE TAYLOR

Dr. Eugene Taylor, 29, son of Mrs. Johnnie M. Taylor, 2465 Bond, recently announced the opening of his office for the general practice of dentistry at 3048 N. Illinois.

Dr. Taylor is a life resident of Indianapolis and a 1947 graduate of Attucks. He received his A.B. degree from Indiana University in 1951 and received his D.D.S. from the Indiana University School of Dentistry in 1955.

After completing his dental training, Dr. Taylor entered the Army and attained the rank of captain before his discharge.

He was officer-in-charge of a 15-chair dental clinic and was chief of the oral surgery department.

Dr. Taylor is married to the former Mary C. Ruder of Evansville and resides with his wife and three daughters at 3630 Salem.

Appointments may be made by calling WA. 4-0885 or WA. 5-8746.

Pregnant Mother Beaten, Assaulted

An expectant mother told police she was beaten and sexually assaulted Saturday night by a man who kicked open her locked front door.

Mrs. Elsie Rowley, 25, 2467 Columbia, said a man known to her as Forrest Coleman of 2442 N. Parker, came to her home about 10 Saturday night, kicked open the door, breaking the frame and glass, and attacked her.

She said he kicked her in the groin and stomach and tried to rape her.

The woman, three-months pregnant, was advised to see a private physician. She said she would prosecute.

Shot in Fight Over Girlfriend

Shot in the left chest during a fight last Saturday over a girlfriend, Ernest M. Johnson, 30, 2024 Alford, was treated at General Hospital.

He told police he was with his girlfriend, Charlotte Robinson, 20, 2539 Guilford, when Ted Rogers and another man named "Odie" forced their way in and started an argument over the girl.

During the fight, Rogers shot Johnson with a small caliber revolver, police were told.

Johnson said Rogers and his companion left the scene in a 1954 red over black Buick.

Hammer, Screwdriver Make Police Wonder

Answering a report of a man breaking in a phone booth at 17th and Bellefontaine early Wednesday morning of last week, police found William H. Gill, 20, 1707 Carrollton, standing outside the booth, a hammer and screwdriver at his feet.

Gill admitted having been inside the booth, but denied damaging the coin box.

The skeptical officers arrested him anyway on charges of pre-larceny and malicious trespass.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

Food for thought: So long as people will take the time to sit down and write to you in person, no matter whether their letters are good or bad, you'll make a living. The time to worry is when people ignore you completely. People frequently criticize the important, but always ignore the insignificant.

One of F. D. Roosevelt's themes was that it is better to be somebody who is knocked than a nobody who is ignored. According to Arthur Godfrey, this was the best lesson he learned in his life, taught him by President Roosevelt.

The Shelley Moore Singers will render a full program for the summer committee of Eastern Star Baptist Church. Serving on the committee are Mesdames Anna Calvert, Nona Hubbard, Valle Gordon and Inez Moore. Rev. P. C. Owens is pastor.

The singers will appear at 3 Sunday afternoon.

Sunday also marks the ushers' annual day at New Bethel Baptist Church, when all ushers are expected to respond with $10 each. Bert Means and Arnold Gee, presidents, say they are asking all ushers to go in their pockets and give their $10. Dr. F. Benjamin Davis is pastor.

Funeral services for Mrs. Josie Oliver, 2200 Hovey, who died in General Hospital, were held Wednesday at New Bethel Baptist Church with the Rev. P. C. Owens officiating. Burial was in the funeral home in charge of the remains. Dr. F. B. Davis officiated.

Speaking of funerals, Kentucky Baptists have lost a very prominent minister, Dr. William Howard Ballew, a nationally-known leader who had given his entire career to Baptists, serving 1925-33 as moderator of the Consolidated District Association of Kentucky Baptists. He was called to the pastorate of Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church in 1933 and served until his death on June 10.

He was formerly a teacher at the Kentucky Normal and Industrial Institute, serving in many capacities too numerous to mention.

Prominent leaders from Ohio and Kentucky attended the funeral. Your Scribe appreciated the program sent, which was beautifully outlined.

Dr. Ballew received the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1937. Kentucky Baptists have lost a great man who cannot easily be replaced.

The little City of Hopkinsville, Ky., in Christian County, where your columnist was born, really showed its colors when Rev. D. W. Roberts and a very fine group of

Youth Club Has Accent on Music

A new youth club has been formed in the city in an effort to curb juvenile delinquency. The club is a record club, designed to give young people a background and appreciation of both classical and progressive jazz types of music.

As part of the club's activities, a covered dish dinner was enjoyed by members recently, and a July 4 activity will be a lawn party. Future projects include an NAACP project and other civic work.

Club sponsors are Mrs. Gladys Battles and Augustus Higgins, a teacher at School No. 26. Membership is open to young people between the ages of 12 and 19.

NEGRO FAMILY

featured in Ladies' Home Journal

Now all America will be inspired by Helen and Arthur Matthews of Hartford, Connecticut.

In the July Journal, Helen tells how family and friends helped her recover from a serious illness, overcome a physical handicap and regain confidence.

You'll read the part Arthur played in helping Helen recover, discover how, when she was in the hospital, Arthur managed the house, four growing children and his job — thanks to a precisely clocked schedule.

And you'll read how Helen now manages her household chores in a new way... still cooks, bakes and carefully attends to the needs of a growing and loving family. Be sure to read "One-Armed Mother."

singers, the Durrett Male Chorus, appeared at Corinthian Baptist Church last Sunday. Among those in the singing group were James Townsley, Orlander Leavelle, Ed Fee Boyd, Jesse Lee Loving, Clinton Mayberry, Joe and Johnny Major and Jeremiah Dixon.

I am told the crowd really filled the church up and down, and the visiting minister gave the church a burning message which will not soon be forgotten. The chorus really stepped on the gas. I know all this because the hubby, Howard Connell, was really talking up a blue streak when he arrived at my regular Sunday appointment. He could not wait until I came home.

Last, but very important to Your Scribe, is the NAACP Youth Council mass meeting, to be held Friday, July 10, at the Bible-Way Baptist Church tent, at 8. Rev. Hubert Thomas of Montgomery, Ala., will speak on "Does the Negro Want Integration?"

Rev. Thomas, an associate of Dr. Martin Luther King, is a graduate of Lowe high school, received his Master Mason's degree at the age of 16, served six years in the Army, and is now studying at Alabama State College. He is a member of the Montgomery Improvement Association and the NAACP.

The meeting will be held to assist some 20-odd youths to go to New York for the 50th anniversary convention of the NAACP. Appearing on the program will be Rev. T. R. Murrell, host minister; Atty. Frank Beckwith, A. Williams and others.

This promises to be a $1,000 drive, which is very much needed in the NAACP Youth Council. Attend yourself, and invite at least 25 friends to meet you July 10 at the Bible-Way tent in the 800 block of Indiana.

NEWLY-WEDS: Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Harden became man and wife in a beautiful ceremony June 27 in the rectory of Holy Angels Roman Catholic Church. Mrs. Harden is the former Miss Josie L. Terrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Terrell Sr., 923 Udell. The groom is the son of Mrs. Frank Redd, 2832 Brookside, and James G. Harden, 1849 Churchman.

Harden-Terrell Vows Said In Rectory of Holy Angels

Miss Josie L. Terrell and Paul G. Harden were married Saturday, June 27, in the rectory of Holy Angels Roman Catholic Church, with Rev. Joseph G. Reidman performing the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Terrell Sr., 923 Udell, and the groom's parents are Mrs. Frank Redd, 2832 Brookside, and James G. Harden, 1849 Churchman.

The bride wore a gown made of white Chantilly lace and tulle, and her veil was secured by a half-dozen pearls and sequins. She carried white carnations and a white orchid.

The reception was held at Phillips Temple CME Church. The couple are at home at 341 W. 28th.

Mrs. William F. Cannon, 332 N. California, was to leave this week for Detroit to spend two weeks with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. DeLoach Whitmore.

READY TO GO: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Short are ready to embark on a life of wedded bliss following their Sunday afternoon wedding. Mrs. Short is the former Miss Billie Joyce Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Black, 913 S. Kenwood. Mr. and Mrs. Curly Short, 1915 N. Harding, are parents of the groom.

Yellow, Green, White Scheme For Short-Black Ceremony

Yellow-mint green and white were the colors used throughout the wedding of Miss Billie Joyce Black and Robert Anthony Short last Sunday afternoon at South Calvary Baptist Church, where services were performed by Rev. L. A. Manuel. White baskets and palm trees decorated the church.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of organdy in different shades of yellow, with yellow net headpieces. They carried beautiful bouquets of yellow carnations with mint-green streamers.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Carol Robinson, wore a mint-green rayon silk ballerina length gown with a mint-green headpiece and carried mint-green carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle with a scalloped Sabrina neckline. The silk illusion veil was held by a pearl and sequin tiara. She carried a beautiful bouquet of Amaranthus lilies with a white net bow and long streamers.

Little Steven Raine was ring-bearer. Best man duties were performed by Reginald Cheatham, and Ned Wyatt, Joe Elliott and Levi Lewis served as ushers.

The reception followed at the FAC Home, where a color scheme of yellow and white was followed. Miss Rosetta Short, sister of the groom, played musical selections at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Black, 913 S. Kenwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Curly Short, 1915 N. Harding, are parents of the couple.

The newly-weds are at home to friends at 1922½ N. Missouri.

Voncille Jones Wed to Nigerian in June Rites

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jones of Tuskegee, Ala., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Voncille Janice, to Efiog U. Ekwere of Nigeria, West Africa, which took place Saturday, June 13, at Jones Tabernacle A.M.E. Zion Church. Dr. Edwin Kenney officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Voncille Hines of Chicago was bridesmaid, wearing a powder-blue street-length dress of nylon tulle with an Empire bodice. Her hat of blue nylon net was accented with yellow netting tied at the neck. Her bouquet formed a half-ring.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an exquisite silk organza ballerina-length gown featuring a bodice of Chantilly lace with bateau neck, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt of gored princess lines.

She wore short mitts, and her veil of shoulder-length illusion, bordered with lace, was held by a tiara. Her bouquet formed a ring.

Itieurua Ekwere of Nigeria was his brother's best man. Ushers were Togo Nishiura of Purdue University and Ebenezer Anene, Nigeria.

"Once More With Feeling" is the "freshest" play of the entire Avondale season, having just closed on Broadway two weeks ago with Joseph Cotten and Arlene Francis in the starring roles. Avondale is the first summer playhouse to produce the hit since it closed on Broadway after 8 months. It is the story of Vic Fabien, a symphony conductor and the long suffering harpist who poses as his wife for 15 years.

The husband and wife duo of Hugh Marlowe and K. T. Stevens has been seen frequently in virtually every top television dramatic show. Mr. Marlowe has also been starred in such memorable motion pictures as "All About Eve" and "Come To The Stable." Miss Stevens, whose father was the famous late director, Sam Wood, has spent her entire life in the theatre.

Performances will be presented nightly, Tuesday through Sunday at 8:30 P. M. and Avondale, Indiana's foremost professional summer stock theatre, is located at 4000 Meadows Drive in Indianapolis.

CHURCH EVENTS
... of the City

By WILLA THOMAS

Very soon now the Indiana Baptist State Sunday School Congress will be meeting in our city, with New Bethel Baptist Church as host.

According to leaders here, home are still needed to house visiting delegates. If you can share your home with them, please call Mrs. Frances E. Boglin, secretary, New Bethel.

Next Sunday the youth of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, will take over the service. The young people's and junior choirs will sing.

Members of Friendship Baptist Church have planned a Fourth of July outing to McCormick's Creek state park for their annual picnic. Dr. V. W. McLawler will be guest speaker at the church Sunday afternoon.

Delegates to the recent district convention of the Churches of Christ Holiness in Chicago included Rev. and Mrs. I. Holland, Rev. A. J. Myers and the Misses Alheria Weir and Teresa Smith.

Anniversary congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Highbaugh.

THE MEN OF NEW BETHEL
Baptist Church recently sponsored a program at the church, with Rev. Richard Walker of Good Samaritan Baptist Church as guest speaker.

John Talley was master of ceremonies. William Jackson is president of the brotherhood which sponsored the program.

May God bless Rev. Charles Talley, Holmer pastor of Second Baptist Church, Anderson, and his family as they take up their new work in Jacksonville, Fla.

Several young members of the Society of Friends (Quakers) will be traveling to Cuba this summer to work in a six-week reconstruction and rehabilitation project in the war-torn area.

Employees at the Army Finance Center were special guests Sunday at Witherspoon United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Laura Lane would appreciate hearing from her friends here. A member of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, she is confined in Ford Hospital, Detroit.

A GOOD SATURDAY morning program for children is "Timothy Churchhouse" which comes on over WLW-L Channel 13, every week at 10:30.

Produced by Muriel Lee, the program is sponsored by the Church Federation.

Are you planning to attend the youth conference at Lake Geneva, Wis.? If so, please make reservations now.

Lake Geneva is a wonderful summer training camp for Christian youth.

Call the Church Federation for further information.

Delegates from Friendship Baptist Church to the recent Sunday school Congress in Memphis were Misses Katherine Hudson, Thel Trammel and Elzora Bozeman and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Anhorn.

Don't throw your old Sunday school or other religious books away. A Christian brother on an Indian reservation needs them.

Send them to Vincent Hunts (Box 27, Wounded Knee, D. He can also use old song books and magazines.

Another friend, S. Samuel, senior clerk at the division superintendent's office (Works Branch) of the Southern Railway, Vyayawade (Andhra Pradesh), India, is also in need of books.

Going away on vacation? Well, if you are, don't take a vacation from God.

Remember to attend church wherever you go.

Drive safely over the holiday weekend. The life you save may be yours.

Normal operations will be resumed Monday, July 6. Required services of the organization will be maintained by skeleton crews during the weekend holiday.

School Board Fires Negro Principal Of Integrated School

COLP, ILL. (APN)—The Negro principal of the integrated Colp school was fired last week by the five-member school board, for "financial reasons."

Rev. Archie Mosley, principal of the grade school in the town of 300, the majority of whom are Negroes, said he did not intend to fight the board's decision.

When desegregation began in 1957, white students refused to attend the school and instead paid tuition to attend white schools in adjoining districts. Following the integration move three white members of the board resigned. Their posts have not been filled.

When the boycott continued last fall Rev. Mosley said the district would be unable to pay its way unless white children returned.

The designated package part of the CARE aid program for Poland and Italy was discontinued May 30. Self-help, Food Crusade and other general relief and rehabilitation programs will be maintained by CARE for both countries in full measure.

NIGERIAN VISITS WALKER CO.: Milton A. Macauley, public relations director for Nigeria, was recent guest of the Mm. C. J. Walker Manufacturing Company. ## Car Accident Is Fatal to George Martin

Funeral services for George W. Martin Jr., 2611 Paris, who died June 22 in Marion County General hospital, were held June 25 in the Patton Funeral Home with burial in Crown Hill cemetery.

Martin, 37, was critically injured early Friday, June 19, when his car crashed into a utility pole on Northwestern just north of the 21st street intersection. He suffered internal injuries and severe cuts in the accident.

Police said they have been unable to determine exactly what caused the fatal crash. But indications are that Martin, traveling north on Northwestern attempted to negotiate the curve at 21st at a high rate of speed, lost control and the car careened over the curb and into the pole.

An autopsy revealed Martin's blood had a small alcohol content, but doctors said it wasn't enough to impair his driving ability.

The crash victim was a life resident of Indianapolis and served with the Army during World War II. He was a member of the Edward S. Gaillard Post 107 of the American Legion.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Julia K. Martin; the mother, Mrs. Blanche Johnson; the father, George Williams of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Mrs. Walter Roberts of Yellow Springs, O.

Charlie H. Young

Surviving are five daughters, Madames Ila Williams, Vernona Alexander, Rosetta Talbert and Brumola Smith, Indianapolis, and Ola Calhoun, Charlotte, N.C.; three sons, Theodore R. Young, Indianapolis; Willie H. Young, Syracuse, N.Y.; and Robert C. Young, Baltimore; 17 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

William T. Jones

Funeral services for William T. Jones, 50, were held June 25 in Eastern Star Baptist Church, with burial in New Crown cemetery. He died June 21 in his home, 2110 Bellefontaine.

A native of Atlanta, Ga., Mr. Jones had lived here 45 years and was a member of Corinthian Baptist Church. He was employed as a service operator by Eli Lilly and Company for 25 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Verna A. Jones; a son, William T. Jones Jr.; five daughters, Misses Adele Jones, Doretha Jones, Carol Jones and Mrs. Janice Dillard, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Jacqueline Franklin of Vacaville, Calif.; his mother, Mrs. Ora Jones, and five grandchildren.

Valpo University Sets Five-Day Relations Workshop

VALPARAISO—Six major essays, a day-long field trip to Chicago, and a report from a Chicago police official highlight the program of a Human Relations Workshop to be held on the Valparaiso University campus July 20-24.

The five-day affair for professional workers of the Lutheran Church is a follow-up on two similar workshops held at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, in 1957 and 1958.

The six essays, to be presented Monday, Wednesday and Thursday will be delivered by the Rev. Ralph L. Moellering, former pastor of First Immanuel Lutheran church in Chicago and now a Danforth scholar at Harvard University completing work toward a doctorate.

Other program report highlights include, "The Controversy Over the Question of the Supreme Court Authority," by Attorney John P. Ward, Indianapolis, executive director of the Indiana Civil Liberties Union; "Acculturation of the American Indian," by Robt. Ruetz, American Indian Center, Chicago, and a survey report, "Communication Integration Techniques," by Dr. Andrew Schulze, executive secretary of the Lutheran Human Relations Association of America.

Marion Stuart Reports Car Theft Attempt

Marion Stuart, 43-year-old president of Stuart's Moving and Storage Company, Inc., told police last week someone tried to steal his 1956 Thunderbird.

He said he parked the sports car in the garage at his home, 3910 N. Capitol, on Tuesday night of last week.

When he went out to the garage next morning, he reported, he found the expensive automobile outside the garage and both the overhead and walk-in doors of the garage torn off.

The car was damaged from its "Continental" spare tire hit to the hood. The convertible top was torn.

Also damaged in the attempted theft when the garage door fell across the hood was Stuart's 1957 Eldorado Cadillac.

Sarah Heater

Rites for Mrs. Sarah Heater, 72, 1413 Bellefontaine, were held June 12 in Jacobs Brothers Westside Chapel. Burial was in New Crown cemetery. She died June 9 in Flower Mission Hospital.

Dream Nearing Reality for $200,000 Service Center

A giant step toward the establishment of a $200,000 community services center was completed recently when Zion Broadway Baptist Missionary and State Charity Project received its charter of incorporation from the state.

The dream of Rev. Roy W. Beverly, pastor of Zion Missionary Baptist Church, the project is planned "to provide and promote on a local basis a private, charitable institution for the benefit of those classes, members, and groups of the community who are experiencing difficulty in adjusting and adapting themselves to the socio-economic standards of the community, including, but not limited to, juvenile delinquency, care for unwed mothers and the aged."

In addition to regular memberships, composed of those members in good standing at Zion Church as of June 22, date of incorporation, the charter provides for associate memberships for other persons desiring to join the group in its social and charitable work.

ONLY REGULAR MEMBERS, however, can vote, hold office or wield authority in the operation of corporate affairs.

Included on the first board of directors are Revs. Beverly, J. T. Highbaugh, C. F. Harris, Marshall Lewis, James W. Edmonds and E. F. Clayton. Mrs. Vivian Maggard, Elbert Cheatum and Ezra Henry.

Revs. Beverly and Harris and Mrs. Maggard are listed as incorporators.

Not present for the picture were Frank Gooch, John T. Tate, Thomas Craig, Elmer Burch and Richard Hedgepath.

Two alleged "boot cab" operators were arrested last week on charges of accepting fares as unlicensed taxis.

Sgt. William Rapier and Patrolman Kirby Crawley arrested John L. McGee, 23, 2435 N. College, while the accused operator was at 19th and College about 12:20 Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Before 1, the same team had moved to 2709 Northwestern where they arrested James Sterling Turner, 40, 518 Fulton, on similar charges.

Both were slated to appear the next day in Municipal Court Room 6.

Trail of Blood Leads Police to Burglary Suspect

Following a trail of blood from the scene of a liquor store break-in Saturday night, police arrested 32-year-old Elmer Leon Phillips, 1807 N. College, Apt. 7-B, on preliminary burglary charges.

Answering a call to Art's Liquor store, 1865 Bellefontaine, police found a window broken out and the glass covered with blood.

Finding no one on the scene, the officers followed a trail of blood to the first alley east of Bellefontaine and north to 19th, where they temporarily lost the trail.

Less than an hour later, however, the same officers were sent to Phillips' address to check a report of a man cut.

They found him bleeding badly from a severe cut on his left arm and smaller cuts on the right arm. His shirt, they said, was soaked with blood.

Booked as a suspect in the burglary during which a portable radio was stolen, Phillips was taken to General Hospital under arrest.

Carnation dumplings. Dumplings made with Carnation Evaporated Milk are so delicious. They're always tender and featherlight. For good results every time, I use double-rich Carnation in all of my cooking and baking. Do serve Quick Dinner in a Dish soon. A wonderful busy day meal.

QUICK DINNER IN A DISH

(Makes 6 servings)

6 cups (2 1 1/2-pound cans) stew
2 cups (#303 can) whole kernel corn
1/2 cup water
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon sage
1 1/2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
1 egg

Place stew, corn and water in deep kettle. Heat to simmering. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sage. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Combine Carnation and egg. Beat well. Lightly stir into dry ingredients until dampened. Drop batter by teaspoonful onto hot stew. Simmer over medium heat 15 minutes. Cover and continue cooking over low heat for 10 minutes. Serve immediately.

'Color' Justice Out For Southern Rapists?

History of great significance has been made this week by 12 insignificant men. They were the white residents of Beaufort, S. C., who on Tuesday convicted a white 19-year-old Marine of raping a 47-year-old illiterate Negro woman last April 7. Since the jurors did not recommend mercy, the death sentence is mandatory, according to South Carolina state law. If the convicted rapist is electrocuted, it will be the first recorded execution of a white man in the United States for raping a Negro woman. Coming on the heels of guilty verdict against the four young white rapists of a Negro co-ed of Florida A. and M. University, the conviction gives added reason to believe that the inequities of Southern "justice" concerning rape where Negroes and whites are involved are nearing an end.

The Recorder has long been opposed to capital punishment, and nothing has happened to make this paper change its mind. However, since this drastic form of society's revenge for a crime is the law of the land in many states, it should be meted out without regard to color. Many dozens of Negroes have been legally executed in the South for raping white women, and many hundreds more have been illegally killed merely on suspicion. It is high time justice crossed the color line.

To the world which does not understand the nature of Southern racism, the conviction this week may not seem too important; to the uninformed world the decision is simple justice. But to those who know that simple justice seldom has a chance in the race-hating Solid South, a "routine" decision really marks a major milestone in the recognition of the Negro as a human being protected by the laws of his country and state. If the decision was made because the white jurors were acting in accord with their collective conscience and not because they felt the eyes of the world were upon them, then truly a great step has been made toward the equalization of the races in Southern courts.

Martin Luther King Hits Nail on Head

Few men are gifted with the ability to see the long-run effects of action or inaction; fewer are able to comprehend the significance of situations brought about by men; and still fewer can do anything about such long-run effects or present situations. Dr. Martin Luther King is, of course, a great leader because he combines all three abilities into one overwhelming personality and is able to inspire others to action.

Talking last week in Cincinnati on the importance of voting, Dr. King pointed out that "we must achieve the ballot in order to insure the permanence of the Supreme Court decisions and to bring pressure on the judicial and the legislative branches of government for other steps in our stride toward complete freedom." He noted that the Supreme Court "liberals" will be retiring from their posts in a few years. "We must garner enough votes among our people to insure that the men replacing those liberals will be of like mind."

He explained that unless we do, civil rights legislation already passed may be nullified, if the wrong type jurists are seated on the nation's highest court panel. He further said all must vote to give courage and voice to the liberals and moderates of the white South, to break the coalition in Congress which blocks every move in the area of civil rights and to bring the necessary moral and legal pressure to bear where it is needed.

"Laws can't change the hearts of men. But through legislation we seek to control their external movements. A law can't make a man love me, true. But it can keep him from lynching me," the young minister declared. "We must work passionately and unrelentingly for first-class citizenship, but we must use first-class methods in doing so."

It is a shame that such a basic American ideal as civil rights should be so closely tied in with politics that Negroes can only get what is guaranteed them in the Constitution by wielding a big stick. Yet, only politics has enabled the racist South to grasp a strangle-hold on the rest of the country, forcing its racism and bigotry on others, allowing Southern senators and representatives to barter flagrantly in Congress for special concessions in the area of civil rights.

Non-voting, both in the South and the North, has created this monster of a tail wagging the dog. Unintelligent and uninformed voting has added its bit. Civil rights leaders would be promoting the cause tremendously if they would conduct informative workshops on how the various branches of government depend upon each other, how they are ultimately accountable to the people and how votes determine their courses of action. If the wheels of progress are stopped on the civil rights front, we will have only ourselves to blame.

AME Bishops Deplore States' Rights Bill

The AME Council of Bishops, meeting last week in Philadelphia, issued a statement aimed at the current states' rights legislation in the Congress, urging the American people to "work and vote against such legislation." A bloc of Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans pushed through, 225-192, a House bill last week preventing federal laws from over-riding state authority in the same field. (Indianapolis Congressman Joseph W. Barr, an Indianapolis Democrat opposing the bill, tried to have the bill amended and stated he voted against the bill because it lacked protection of civil rights and the food and drug industry.)

In their statement the bishops said, "We the bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church take note of the recent state's rights action of the House of Representatives enacting legislation which in substance means that citizenship in a state is above citizenship in the nation. It subordinates even the draft law and such other federal legislation for the defense of the nation to the will of state legislation. This means national chaos and destruction. Such state's rights legislation surrenders federal constitutional government."

While the bishops did not mention civil rights, it is pretty much taken for granted that this one field is the most important one of those advocating "state's rights" — meaning the right of Mississippi, Alabama, etc., to discriminate against and disfranchise Negroes. The bill is one of the most vicious ever to face Congress, and it is to our national shame that it passed the House — even as it did last year, only to be pigeonholed by the Senate Judiciary Committee. We hope that the voice of the bishops, and of others who see this bill for what it is, will be heard.

One Nation Under God

By the Union Baptist Alliance
REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, Editor

(THE LARGER LESSON: Deut. 4-12. PRINTED TEXT: Deut. 7:6-11, 8:17-20, 11:1. MEMORY VERSE: Deut. 11:1.) The lessons of the last quarter and those of the coming one will show a great similarity. We are studying the great leaders of the Old Testament, and while in these great books, we hope to glean the message which the Lord desires to impart through them.

Someone has said that books are the deposits of one held over to the next and the next. Lord Gaynor said it this way: "Out of the fresh green leaf the flower will glow and grow. So out of the heart of the printed leaf, God's message will ever flow." So we will browse in God's library these next three months.

THE LOST BOOK (II Kings 22-23; II Chron. 34-35). We shall begin our book travelogue with Deuteronomy. The word means "the second law." As you may know, one day a priest named Hilkiah, along with his King Josiah, decided to repair the temple. Somewhere in the rubbish of the temple they happened upon the lost book. Hilkiah read it and hastened to get it in the hands of his young king, Josiah, who also read it. And they urged the people to read it, too.

It is so easy to lose God's word, yet we are keeping it. And it is so easy to do so in the basic institutions of our culture. Let us review some of the instances of the Sacred Book's being lost in the past and some of the institutions which lost it.

First, this printed text here tells of God's lost word in His household under the very nose of His teachers. This is a basic tragedy, yet how easily it can develop!

The church can get so interested in programs, in budgets, in buildings and in having the members and their children seen that God's word and purpose are covered among all this stuff. In some way it must be kept central that the Church was built to magnify God and His Word and not us and our word. The Church is God's people called out by Him to magnify His Word and wishes at the center of their life in every relationship.

In John Wycliffe's day our Bible was untranslated. It was still in the Greek or in the Latin, though in many countries these languages were not the languages of the people. So John Wycliffe, a sainted scholar, dared venture to translate the Sacred Book into the language of the people.

This was counted by the priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church of that day as a mark of irreverence instead of respect. So Wycliffe endured much to start the process of putting the Bible where it could be read by the masses. This has been the age-long wrestle between Roman Catholic and Protestant culture. One says, "We are the sole stewards of the learning process and sacred information," while the Protestant preacher and pastor says, "We are divinely-appointed guides of the teaching process under the great Guide, the Holy Spirit, who is active and operative in the Church and Christian always." So even today, while gradually liberalizing its process, the great Roman Catholic Church is still holding its mass in the Latin language.

Second, our book is often lost in our schools. Our fear of confusion and conflict has kept the school system in the Church in a teaching way. It is appalling how religiously illiterate our children are becoming in a civilization which is secularly becoming quite brilliant.

This will eventually bring on a crisis if we grow a generation of alert scientists and educators and a docile and inert moral and religious leadership. A naturally selfish, vain generation of law-breakers and atheists will inevitably ensue. The growth of the program of released time for Bible study is a healthy sign that we, the church, are tackling this situation, I am sure.

Third, we have lost God's word in our homes. We have filled our homes with trashy magazines. Even the Christians in our homes have failed to read God's word as before. If we could get our mothers and fathers to read the Bible each day, a new crop of Christians would grow up among us.

A CHOSEN PEOPLE (Deut. 7:6-11). "A holy nation" — what a sacred term! And before any people can survive their day, there must grow in their minds the thoughts, "I have been placed in this world to achieve, under God, a definite end. No one else can live my life."

Moses here calls Israel back to reverence for His Ten Commandments. He repeats them. Read Exodus 20 and Deuteronomy 5 and 6. See how he emphasizes them here as a means of healthy living in Canaan.

"Reverence Me and My words, and I will prosper you," God tells Israel. "Set Me a day aside, bring Me an offering to honor Me. Reverence each other by marriage. Raise a home, teach My word in it. Respect other people's goods and don't steal. Give him a right to have and don't kill, and you shall live." "Honor Me with thy substance," says the Lord.

What this ought to mean to America is appalling, and what it means to minority groups among us is stunning. We must have a culture built on deeper foundations than mere democracy to survive our tomorrow. A democracy built merely on reverence for the individual can become and is liable to become a mere worship of individual institutions and self-worship.

So the only difference between our culture and that of our Russian fellow-man is that we worship ourselves, man by man, while he worships himself en masse. Yet, each is an expression of the most intriguing and yet the most deceptive kind of self-worship.

So come, let us go back to God and, as Abraham Lincoln prayed, hope that "this nation, under God, may have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

LEST WE FORGET (Deut. 8:17-20). The great psychologist tells us that whatever gets our attention gets us. Moses knew that when he wrote Deuteronomy. He told them their corn, wine and oil would flow in abundance. He told them that their work would sprout and grow, but they would have to work hard.

Corn was in the earth, but they must plow it. Grapes would grow, but they must plant and tend them. Oil profusely flowed, but they must bore for and get it.

Then he warned them, "Don't over-count yourself. Don't give yourself too much credit, for the land is the Lord's, and He put out the sunshine and air and rain. Remember the Lord."

In a land with rolling hills and expansive plains, with fat paychecks and fabulous homes and luxurious cars, we ought to sing:

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
To thee we sing.

But we must always add reverently that next verse:
Our fathers' God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing;

Long may our land be bright
With Freedom's holy light,
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God our King.

The Ads Tell The Story in Short

A total stranger to the United States of America could tell the position of the Negro in our national life simply by perusing the display ads in national magazines such as Life and The Saturday Evening Post and by looking at the commercials on TV.

Rarely would he find the picture of a Negro in any of the ads carried in these two magazines of wide circulation, and what is true of other magazines broadcast to the general population and of the commercials on television.

Occasionally there will appear an ad in which a Negro such as "Aunt Jemima" or "Uncle Ned" will appear as the faithful domestic. But never is the Negro pictured in the media named as the delighted user of the product advertised.

The result is that the Negro as a potential consumer is not brought to the attention of the purveyors of the advertised products.

One would gather that the makers of these products are not anxious to have the Negro use their products, but that is very unlikely, owing to the predilection of these manufacturers for profits. It is simply that they are either uninformed or scared or both.

SOME MANUFACTURERS who advertise in the media named above have made considerable effort to break into the Negro market surreptitiously. They have placed ads in Negro publications as a private tip-off to Negroes that it is OK for them to buy their products.

Most of those who place ads in Negro publications use Ebony magazine as one of the media. In many cases they place the same ad in Ebony that they place in Life or the Post. In other instances they have gone a step further and actually pictured Negroes enjoying the use of their products.

In the latter category are Remington-Rand, Bulova, Budweiser, Schlitz, Pepsi Cola, Colgate and Kent cigarettes.

Among the other nationally advertised products seen in the current number of Ebony are Pontiac, Chevrolet and Ford among automobiles, French's mustard, Kraft salad dressings, Telleys tea and Carnation milk among edibles, Absorbine Jr., Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, Colgate toothpaste, Johnson and Johnson's Band-Aid and Kotex among health and pharmaceutical aids.

Also Stacy Adams shoes, Simplicity patterns, Canadian Club, Champagne, Reingold beer, Smirnoff Vodka, Antique Bourbon, Old Hickory, Old Taylor, O'd Charter, Gordon's gin and vodka, Fleischmann's gin, Booth's dry gin, Ancient Age, Calvert's, Bacardi rum, Seagram's, Coca Cola, Dr. Pepper, Mum, Polaroid cameras, and Phillies cigars.

From the above list, it would appear that the liquor business and the manufacturers of tobacco products are more anxious than other purveyors of goods to attract the Negro trade.

IT IS ALSO TRUE that in top sales jobs and public relations positions meted out to Negroes, the liquor and tobacco interests are leading the way.

It is paradoxical that the very products which have the least public approval are presented to Negroes in the most acceptable light and that the manufacturers and processors of these products are the most open-minded when it comes to giving Negroes decent jobs.

The fact that most ads in daily newspapers and magazines treat the Negro as though he did not exist or show him only in stereotyped roles serves to indoctrinate the white man with the attitude of ignoring the human desires and attributes of the Negro citizen.

And in that the ads are serving as the handmaidens of white supremacy.

Thinking is a much-discouraged activity in America, and the mass of Americans get their ideas canned in their favorite columns and formulate their outlooks on life from these canned opinions and a dream from life as they see it pictured in the ads and commercials.

THE VAUNTED AMERICAN way of life is a creature of these ads and commercials. The Joneses with which the average American family is attempting to keep up are the Joneses of the ads and commercials.

Most Americans are in a rat race to emulate the standard of life depicted for them in commercial announcements. The picture of a Negro now and then using the products for which (according to the ads) America is famous should help to correct the picture and bring the ads more in accord with how America really lives—or should live.

The ads are now divisive; they could become the great unifying force in inter-group relations in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

BETWEEN THE LINES

By Dean Gordon B. Hancock for ANP

Negro Philanthropy Appears

The appearance of the Negro philanthropist on the current scene, even in a small way, is encouraging. Long the beneficiary of the white man's philanthropy, the Negro is exhibiting the moral growth of the race by showing that Negroes are feeling those nobler impulses which have, in so many ways, benefited the world in general and Negroes in particular.

There is no finer chapter in human history than that written by the Yankees of the North who came South and pioneered in Negro education.

For instance, the American Baptist Home Mission Society built a chain of schools which extended from Washington, D.C., to Marshall, Tex.

To say the least, it was an ambitious Christian undertaking, but it has paid moral dividends which beggar enumeration and description. What the Northern Baptists did was paralleled by the Congregationalists and Methodists.

THE FOUNDING of these schools and the manning of the same by white Christians with missionary zeal is easily the finest manifestation of Christianity this nation has ever known.

It is all the more fitting that we should take serious note of the current inclination of wealthy Negroes to feel the fires of philanthropy burning in the soul of the Negro race. It is just one more illustration of the Negro's worth as a citizen of this country.

Down at Benedict College, my first alma mater, there has just been completed a fine building named for one of her sons, a physician who left a sizeable fortune to the school. There is in process of erection at Virginia Union a fine building to be named for a grateful alumna who has made a substantial gift with the added assurance that the residue of her sizeable estate will be left to the university.

There are no doubt other fine philanthropic gestures being made by Negroes here and there about the country. These gestures are as the moving finger, marking out the way along which the Negro's heart is traveling. THESE ARE FERTILE suggestions for other Negroes who have accumulated sizeable fortunes. It is encouraging to see Negroes inclining to do today what those great Christian Yankees did yesterday.

When I was a boy studying at Benedict College, I was domiciled in a room which had over its door this inscription: "This room was furnished by the First Baptist Church of Kirksville, N.Y."

I would often lie in bed on cold mornings, preferring to stay in bed for the breakfast—consisting too often of light bread and tea one morning, and tea and light bread the next. But my eyes often rested on the inscription, and I imagined that the First Baptist Church of Kirksville was in a great city and that the church itself was a large, steeped cathedral on one of the main streets. I imagined that its member were wealthy and lived in mansions.

When I was, in after years, a student at Colgate University, I received an invitation to come to the First Baptist Church of Kirksville and speak. They had heard that a Negro from one of the schools they had helped to maintain was studying at Colgate and wanted to see one of the recipients of their philanthropy.

MY HOST MET ME at a flag station and took me to his crude rural home for the night. I just knew that Sunday morning we would drive into Kirksville City. Instead, he took me to the intersection of two rural highways, where a little frame post office stood one corner and a little frame church at the other. That amounted to Kirksville, N.Y., and its First Baptist Church.

The few members were humble people who had helped the humble Negroes in the South. The little church was not to be measured by its small dimensions, but by the size of its heart. That such a humble people were helping to produce Negro philanthropists was a miracle of moral achievement.

Philanthropy on the part of Negroes is the only full justification for the philanthropy of those who have remembered us in our low estate!

Patterson's Downfall Laid to Idleness, Setup Fights Reflexes Became Dull During D'Amato's Feud

By CHARLES J. LIVINGSTON for ANP

When Ingemar Johansson, in one of the most stunning upsets in rings annals, halted the strange and twisted championship reign of Floyd Patterson in Yankee Stadium last week, the knockout raised several questions as to why Patterson — one of the most gifted, though not greatest, of champions — was so handily defeated by a fighter so lightly regarded as Johansson.

These questions cannot be answered before first viewing the circumstances surrounding the champ since he ascended the throne with a spectacular 5th-round kyo of Archie Moore on Nov. 30, 1956.

While Patterson was in training for the bout with Moore, this reporter interviewed the soft-spoken former Olympic champ. Floyd was then a bright-eyed youngster (at 21 he became the youngest heavyweight champion), anxious to fulfill his fistic ambition — winning the title.

HIS IDOL, he said, was former champion Joe Louis, whom he hoped to emulate.

"If I win the title, I intend to be a fighting champion in the Louis tradition. If I can be half as good as he, I will consider myself a great champion."

After he had stopped Moore, he repeated the promise to be a fighting champion. But despite his obviously good intentions, Floyd's promise never materialized. His manager, Gus D'Amato, who had done a good job of bringing Floyd along slowly in the march toward the championship, became embroiled in a long-standing quarrel with the since outlived International Boxing Club.

D'AMATO SAW IT that Patterson had nothing to do with boxers under contract to the IBC. Cus handpicked opponents for Floyd. But the IBC's range of operations was so wide that at one stretch, Floyd was forced to sit on the sidelines for more than a year while Cus sifted possible challengers.

In the feud Floyd remained loyal to his manager, who he admitted was using him as a guinea pig in the "boxing reform movement." Some thought him a misguided champion, but Floyd felt he owed D'Amato a debt of gratitude.

But what D'Amato and Patterson failed to realize was that in the modern setup, a boxer has to keep active and in top shape in order to stay on top. Anything short of an active career for a heavyweight champion is disastrous, as Floyd learned June 26.

WHEN FLOYD WAS training for Moore, his reflexes were razor sharp. He could punch with blinding speed, and at the same time avoid blows with amazing dexterity.

But when I saw him later in title defenses against the likes of Pete Rademacher, Roy Harris and Brian London, Floyd's reflexes seemed markedly slower. Both Rademacher, an amateur who was turning pro in the title bout, and Harris, a harmless school teacher, put Patterson on the deck — although Floyd got up and knocked them out.

Patterson himself acknowledged, after the Harris and London bouts, that he felt rusty and needed more work.

BUT THE FEUD of the boxing chiefs continued and Patterson had to pass up such worthy challengers as Eddie Machen, for several months the No. 1 contender; Zora Folley and Nino Valdes.

There is only one explanation for Patterson's apparent deterioration — lack of work. Joe Louis said so, and several other authorities did too.

If Floyd is dead serious about regaining and retaining the title, as I believe he is, he will insist that his manager obtain more work for him, against worthy opponents. Set-ups will not help.

FLOYD'S FATAL FLAW last week was his inability to evade Johansson's celebrated right-hand punch. But strangely enough, Ingemar punches much like Moore, with a countering straight right. Patterson did a great job of dodging Moore's right-hand shots, but walked into Ingemar's.

There is no question but that Floyd has weaknesses. One is his habit of dropping his left hand after leaping in with a left hook. Another is his tendency to bob straight up instead of sideways. These faults can be corrected, however.

The more serious problem is his reflexes. Unless these are sharpened and kept that way, he cannot hope to win against Johansson.

Red Sox Beat All-Stars, Then Lose to Monarchs

Tournament-style baseball prevailed Sunday at Victory Field, as the Memphis Red Sox defeated the Indianapolis All Stars only in turn to be downed by the Kansas City Monarchs.

Memphis hurler Eugene Williams helped his own cause with a home run as the Red Sox crushed the All-Stars 10-2 in the first game. In the nightcap, catcher Isaac Barnes homered for Memphis in a free-slugging contest won by Kansas City, 9-6. It was a Negro American League game.

Barrington Youth Softball Tourney

A 2nd annual Softball Tournament and Parade will be sponsored by the Barrington Youth Club on Sunday at Bethel Park.

Eight teams will compete, according to M/Sgt. Saint S. Johnson, U.S. Air Force recruiting officer, who is in charge. They are the West Indianapolis Clowns, Cavaliers, Beasley's All-Stars, Malory's and Robinson Barbers, with three yet to be chosen as we went to press.

The tourney will begin with a parade of convertibles at 11 a.m. and continue all day until 7 p.m. Winners and the outstanding player will receive trophies donated by Barrington Heights rental office.

Queen of the tournament is Miss Norma Cheatham, 3003 Minnesota. Last year's tourney was witnessed by some 300 spectators.

Middleweight Scramble

TRENTON, N.J. (ANP)—State Athletic Commissioner Joseph E. Walker said last week he would approve a middleweight title bout between Sugar Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio.

Should Basilio refuse the bout, Promoter Willie Glitzenberg said he would try to sign Gene Fullmer or Gustave Scholz of Germany.

The NBA on May 4 suspended Robinson as the champion, but not as a fighter. Basilio and Fullmer have signed to fight for the NBA version of the title in August, at an unselected site.

East-West Game To Be Aug. 9

By A. L. FOSTER

CHICAGO (ANP)—The Windy City is already steamed up with enthusiasm over the annual East-West baseball Classic, to be played Aug. 9 at Comiskey Park. Representatives of business and sports organizations met recently at a luncheon given by the Cosmopolitan Chamber of Commerce, and organized a Citizens Boosters Committee to assist Dr. J. B. Martin, president of the Negro American League, in promoting the game and planning the entertainment.

Attendance from other cities will undoubtedly be greater this year, as efforts are being made to obtain special rates by railroads and bus lines. A contest to select the Queen of the Classic is now going on. She will be crowned on the diamond in pre-game ceremonies.

CLEVELAND (ANP) — Back in 1951, Minnie Minoso had been in the Cleveland lineup in a doubleheader, playing 1st base for the injured Luke Easter. The Cuban, who had previously performed at 3rd base and in the outfield, but never at 1st, collected 5 hits to help the Tribe to two victories.

The next day, Minoso was on his way to Chicago. He figured in a deal which some experts later said cost the Indians one or perhaps several pennants. The Tribe had power and pitching in those years, but it didn't have speed — which Minnie had in abundance.

This was recalled recently when, with the major league trading deadline near, there was frequent talk of a trade involving Minoso. But Minnie set these rumors to rest with his hottest hitting spree of the season. In a doubleheader against Washington at the Senators' stadium, he unloaded two homers, two singles and a double, driving in 9 runs to lead his team to its first twin-bill triumph of the year.

He followed this with another 3-run homer which paced the Tribe to a 5-1 victory over Boston in the Red Sox' park. MINOSO WAS ONE of the sparks of the resurgent Indians. His hitting at Washington and Boston lifted his average from .285 to .306. He rapped the ball at a .462 clip, with 12 hits in 26 trips. He had 4 home runs, scored 6 times and drove in 15 runs.

That put the colorful outfielder among the American League leaders in hitting and run batted in (44). He also contributed to the Indians' winning streak with fine defensive plays. Cleveland general manager Frank Lane, who has long been high on Minnie, said all the trade talk was just talk. "I told the White Sox to forget Minoso."

THE SOX WERE trying to get Minnie for two reasons. First, he could add some punch to their lineup. He was traded back to Cleveland in December, 1957, on the theory that All Smith was a better outfielder than the 36-year-old Minoso. Also, the Sox got pitcher Early Wynn.

Secondly, Minoso is a tremendous favorite with White Sox fans. It is significant that the Sox drew fewer fans last year than any time since 1950. It was the first time since 1951 that Minoso was out of their lineup.

Readers Invited To Use Hunting Area at Knox

KNOX—Sportsmen who read The Recorder have been invited to patronize a hunting project which has been established near here.

The Allan-David Enterprises of 21 N. Main St., Knox, has leased approximately 500 acres of land adjoining the State Game Farm in Jasper and Pulaski Counties.

Approximately 50 pits have been set up for the shooting of geese and ducks during the season, and there are also areas for hunting other game.

THE PROJECT was launched "to give the average hunter a place whereby he could hunt for an entire season," according to the promoters. A fee of $20 a season for ducks and geese, and $15 for other game, is charged. There are also daily fees of $2.50 and $2.00.

The issuance of permits makes it possible to assure farmers their livestock will not be shot nor property damaged without compensation.

"We have taken this opportunity to write you first, before writing the other news outlets in Indianapolis, because we would certainly welcome some of your readers in our pits or blinds this season," said the proprietors in a letter to The Recorder. "We will be very happy to furnish any and all information."

Other Douglass members taking part included Fred Wilson, Jacques Ferguson, Forrest Jones and William Sargent.

Hoosiers Down Ky. With 3-Star Blend

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

Most everybody had something to be happy about after the Indiana All-Stars outclassed Kentucky, 88-77, in the closing game of the "Ohio River series" at Butler Saturday.

The Hoosier hotshots were happy that they won more convincingly than they had lost the week before at Louisville. For instance, Indiana took the rebounds by a whopping 39-19 advantage, whereas Kentucky had grabbed them 51-40 in the earlier tilt.

That was the story of the night, except for a dismal "first quarter" when Kentucky ran up a 26-18 lead. At that point the Hoosiers began getting rough — without too much interference from the officials — and the Bluegrass boys had it.

The 4,000 fans, more or less, from Kokomo were happy because Jimmy Rayl finally got his "Star of Stars" award. The Recorder cast its votes for Jimmy, although it was actually a team victory with a 3-star cast.

Attacks Larry McIntyre had the satisfaction of turning in a top performance, scoring 18 points including the "shot of the game" — a basket from the foul line while falling on his back. Larry now says, incidentally, that he is likely going to Butler.

As for Shortridge's "Bo" Crain, he was simply terrific — coping off the bench to play a murderous floor game and hit 7-for-9 fielders, most of them from slightly impossible positions.

There were votes along press row for both McIntyre and Crain, as well as sentiment for big Alan Nass because of his fine defensive job on Kentucky's Julius Berry from Lexington Dunbar. Pete Aukusel from East Chicago Washington also drew praise for his shooting and rebounding.

MOSTLY THE KENTUCKIANS had to be satisfied with their earlier victory and some good team play in the game's opening minutes. Only 5-10 Bill Bradley, tan sharpshooter from Louisville Central, was stubborn after the intermission. Bill, who's headed for Evansville College, hit 4 long shots in a row in Kentucky's last stand.

Louis Stout, a tall tan performer from Cynthia, scored 3 points.

As for Berry, the "Bobby Edmonds of Kentucky," he rolled up 13 points during the first half but then acted as if someone had slipped him a mickey, finally settling for 17. He was brilliantly defended by Nass and others, but we also believe the heat got to him.

When they choose up the next time, we'll pick this boy first. He says he's thinking of Dayton and Cincinnati.

4 Negroes Top The Voting for Tuesday's Game

PITTSBURGH — When the major league All-Stars play their baseball classic here Tuesday, in right field for the Nationals will be Hank Aaron — first player in history to be elected by a maximum vote.

Actually the 25-year-old Milwaukee slugger did not receive all the votes. No one was permitted to vote for a player on his own team. The Braves' ballots for right fielder were divided, with Joe Cunningham of the Cardinals receiving the greatest number, 9.

But aside from this technicality, Aaron received the vote of every qualified player, manager and coach on every other club in the league. The total was 208 ballots for the .390-hitting star.

THREE OTHER TAN performers will be in the National League starting lineup, with pitchers yet to be chosen at this writing. They are Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs, shortstop; Willie Mays, San Francisco, center field, and Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco, 1st base.

The four Negroes were the top four vote-getters in the National balloting, and also drew more votes than any player in the American League. Banks received 191 votes, Mays 187 and Cepeda 181.

Sixth City Golf Tourney At Cleveland This Weekend

CLEVELAND — Championship golfers and celebrities from Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, the District of Columbia and as far as California are expected for the 12th annual tournament of the Sixth City Golf Club, to be held here this weekend.

Recognized as one of the top events in golfdom, the tourney is presented this year in connection with the United Negro College Fund. It will be played July 3-5 on the Seneca Golf Course in suburban Brecksville, O.

Such personalities have attended the meet in the past as Joe Louis, Sugar Ray Robinson, Sammy Davis Jr., Ted Rhodes, Thelma Cowans of Los Angeles and Juanita Brown of St. Louis.

THE TOURNAMENT will consist of 9 flights, 5 for men and 4 for women. There will be 54 holes of play—18 each day for three days—including qualifying rounds for non-championship players. Extra activities will include the medalist, best dressed and

PERSONAL OPINION

Charles Duncan
The Taugadetta, held at the Murat Theatre Sunday, June 21, was great — a success — probably due to the fact that there was no one star, but a group of stars playing together. The Five Stars with the Downbeats, the Dave Baker Big Band, Kenny Bass quintet, the Three Souls, Vic Knight's orchestra and Art Roberts, the host, all showed that music is something that needs every musician's cooperation as well as that of the sponsor who presents the show.

AS I SEE IT, first of all, we musicians must get together and help little musicians as well as big musicians. Whether they're successful or not, we must become less self-indulgent and help all of our fellow musicians — including those who have resorted to vice and crime because of their disappointment.

1444 Gallery Spots Top Jazz Groups

Every Sunday night in July, at 8, the 1444 Gallery, Inc., 1444 N. Pennsylvania, will present a different modern jazz group featuring the top jazz musicians of Indianapolis. This summer series will be a local prelude to the festival at French Lick. The combos have been arranged to provide different instrumentation and new sounds for the fans of jazz at the Gallery.

Tickets for individual concerts will be $1.50; and the bargain price for the series will be $5. Checks can be sent to the Gallery for tickets.

These intimate Gallery concerts will feature two trombones with rhythm, a string ensemble of two guitars, bass and piano, a vocalist with rhythm, and the sextet from the May 31 concert.

THE FIRST CONCERT on Sunday, July 5, will feature the Dave Baker Quintet with two trombones, piano, Larry Ridley, bass, and Joe Hunt, drums.

On the 12th, the Wes Montgomery String Ensemble will play. Arlene Martel will sing with the Willis Kirk trio on Sunday the 19th.

On July 26 Dave Baker, Wes Montgomery, and Sonny Johnson will return with the sextet that played such a successful concert at the Gallery in May.

"La Parisienne" Saucy Comedy, Stars Sexy Brigitte Bardot at Walker MUSICAL UPBEAT

By BOB WOMACK

The greatest French export of the century will make her debut as a comedienne in "La Parisienne," which will open Sunday at the Walker theater, and distributed through United Artists. The export is none other than the fabulously endowed Brigitte Bardot.

"La Parisienne" is a comedy such as only the French can make — and, in fact, are famous for. To come right out with it, "La Parisienne" is a boudoir comedy — which is to say it is fast, funny, outrageous, and with its emphasis resting squarely on the battle of the sexes.

Brigitte plays the role of a flirtatious and incendiary young girl who is determined to balance her husband's infidelities by having an affair with a handsome prince.

Her co-stars in "La Parisienne" are Charles Boyer, who plays the prince with suavity and a wicked sophistication; and Henri Vidal, a tall, rugged, handsome redheaded male counterpart of Brigitte's sex appeal.

THE FEATURED CAST includes such noted French players as Noel Roquevert, Madeleine Le Beau, Nadia Gray and Andre Lugnet.

Filmed largely on location in Paris and the Riviera, in Technicolor, "La Parisienne" was produced by Francis Cosne and directed by Michael Boisron. The original screenplay was written by Annette Wademant and Jean Aurel. Marcel Grignon was chief cinematographer, and the musical score was written by Hubert Rostaing and Andre Hodeir.

Brigitte Bardot, the girl who has become the symbol of sex, nonconformity, and the beat generation, was educated in a convent school.

"La Parisienne" also happens to be well supplied with sex-appeal for the female contingent of the movie audience. Boyer, of course, has long been Hollywood's gift to women — the owner of the screen's most persuasive pair of bedroom eyes and beside manner.

BIG MAYBELLE, "Blues Shouter," who will appear at Stan's Lounge, July 13-18, is very well known here. During the early '40s the buxom blues stylist worked out of the late Ferguson Brothers Agency which at that time booked the best septa talent in the land. She was also a headliner at the Sunset Terrace Ballroom.

The prancing rhythm of Big Maybelle first saw the light of day some 22 years back, when plain Maybelle Smith was born in a little town on the outskirts of Newark, N. J. Her breathless vocal talent was "discovered" when she was at the tender age of five, and the precocious youngster was beset with invitations to entertain at parties and informal neighborhood gatherings.

Young Miss Smith basked in the spotlight of local popularity thru her school years, with a determination to reach the heights of theatrical world success. She studied voice under the tutelage of several leading teachers, slowly developing the sparkling style which since has zoomed her to stardom with her waxing of "Rain, Down Rain" and "Gabbins Blues" — a style that is lusty and unorthodox, an individualized pattern that provides a smoothly lyrical phrase paired off with a frantically rhythmic one which gives her recordings their unbelievable "lift."

Her surprising melodic twists and foreshortened phrasings are almost surrealistic, but are basically a combination of deep blues, typical jazz and a little "pop." Be sure to dig the big chick in action when she comes to our fair city.

CHANGES MADE: Some columns back we had Earl "Fox" Walker wailing drums with Willis "The Hammond Man" Dyer at the Thunder Bird Club. Tain't so. Fox, as you no doubt know by this time, is sportin' a new combo at the

HEY, MELVIN BRADFORD, a little bird told me to tell you that if you ever get that lonesome feeling there are quite a few Northside cuties who will be yours for the asking. . . . I hear Eleanor Cleveland is steady making it with Jimmy Milton — but still has a small longing for Paul Shields. You know that three makes a crowd, Eleanor? . . . From the way things look, Merle Yeakey has taken up cradle robbing for a pastime. . . . Toni Cleveland, don't you know that you are alone in your fight for Warren Wisdom's love? . . . Is Ethelene Bennett playing the role of the lonesome girl or has she a secret love hidden somewhere in the background? . . . I hear that Connie Craig is trying to give her love to a young man with the initials B. B. But he's being a little slow in accepting it. Why, my man? . . . Dig, Eleanor Smith, do you plan to keep Dickie Hinkle the whole summer just for yourself? . . . Shirley McGregor has her heart set on Calvin Winston. Are you going to give her a chance, Calvin? . . . Say, Andrew Britt, when are you going to give some of these chicks a chance for your love?

PHYLLIS WEEDEN and Donald Wood are the "king and queen" of love now that Bessie Richardson and Raymond Martin have broken up. . . . Wonder why William Wade and Sheila Jones are keeping their love such a big secret. Are you ashamed, kids? . . . Otha Norrington and Tracie Johnson would make a nice couple if they would only give it a try. . . . Dorothy Shaw and Vaughn Lane are really living it up in lovers' paradise. How long will this feeling last, children? . . . Garline Willis and Bertral Anderson are walking hand in hand down the aisle of love.

Shedrick Pittman is so much of a playboy that Diane Baker doesn't know whether they'll make it or not. . . . Among those trying to compete for the title of prince and princess of love are Wendell Price and Orelia Yeakey, Betty Jo Clunk and Michael Shelby, and Rose Denning and Calvin Wellington. The Snooper wishes the best of luck to all of you. . . . Paul Beech is singing "Come To Me" to Carol Forter, but I was told that she was singing "Let Me Go." What's the matter, Carol? . . . Donald Smith and Barbara Lisenby are makin' the most of things.

Pam Daniels may be heart broken over losing Shed Pittman, but she said it won't be long. . . . Seems like Jimmie Russell has all the girls on the Eastside "All Shook Up" with his very pleasing smile. William Reed, who is your love nowadays? Everyone would like to know.

Well, looks like I am going to have to draw these few lines to a close, now that I have told you everything I snooped up last week. Let's keep the letters pouring in. OK?

Musical Upbeat

gimmick is about to receive a new twist. Mercury is releasing a stereo LP which features the orchestras of Buddy Rich and Max Roach on the separate channels. Thus the "challenge" will be hurled through one speaker and the "answer" through the other.

F-L-A-S-H . . . (Delayed) . . . Word has been received that Montane Phillips, one of the finest piano-men from Gary, died recently in Danville, Ill. Montane came to the city some years back with the Count Fisher combo. A winner in the Recorder Dream Band ball, at one time he was featured with Jimmy Coe, Dud Storms, Bob Womack and other groups here. The family has our deepest sympathy. He is gone but not forgotten.

For your summer dancing parties, picnics or concerts why not contact Yours Truly and the Bob Cats All-Stars combo? . . . Call The Recorder theatrical office ME. 4-7049 any day after noon. In the evenings WA. 5-9704. The group is only interested in local engagements.

THE THINGS I HEAR: The mighty man of the tenor sax, Glenn Douglass, is currently wailing with the Hampton Sisters combo nightly at Nick and Jerry's on Meridian. The unit has been at the spot for over 10 years, making it some kind of record for location gigs. . . . Don't forget to dig Harvey French and his new combo when they come your way. The boys are booked to play for a leading club dance real soon.

Although stereophonic radio is on the upswing, one very definite problem has crept up. Since most stereocasts utilize both AM and FM radio to attain the stereo effect, listeners who are in automobiles can hear only one of the channels. This cuts out a very important part of the listening audience. Some stations are attempting to overcome this by playing only recordings which avoid a real spread of sound. The main track is then broadcast on AM so that the motorists get most of the sound. . . . The president of the Bridgeport Musicians Local 63, A.F.M., would seem to have been pre-destined for his job. His name is Salvatore De Piano.

Although the piano has long been king of the instruments in the home, it is in danger of losing its crown. According to the National Association of Music Merchants, the guitar is catching up with the piano in sales, since $22,000,000 having been spent for that instrument during the past year. Credit for the upsurge of guitar twanging is given to the fact that so many of the young singing idols play the instrument, in addition to such performers as George Gobel and Arthur Godfrey.

MINNESOTA TV SPECIALIST AT NCC
DURHAM, N. C. (ANP) — Mrs. Betty T. Girling, director of the Minnesota School of the Air, Department of Radio and Television, University of Minnesota, will be special guest consultant in North Carolina College's audio-visual workshop, July 1-3.

Mrs. Girling holds B.A., B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Minnesota, with concentration in English, speech and education. Prior to becoming director of the School of the Air in 1946, she served as administrative fellow of radio in 1940, and program director in 1941.

Hoosier Fence Company Boasts of Most Complete Line for 40 Years

The most complete line of fences and fence materials sold and serviced in Indiana for nearly 40 years is the boast of the Hoosier Fence Company, 1701 E. 38th.

The widely-known firm sells both a quality and popular line of industrial and domestic or home fencing. The industrial type includes the chain-link factory fence with three bars above and usually 7 or 8 feet in height, also all types of guard rails and were partitioning window guards, etc.

The domestic types or fences for home, farms, etc., include the popular chain-link heavy galvanized fence. This is erected generally on red cedar posts and fire-top rails.

Others include patio fences, basket weave and the vertical louver fence. Several of the domestic type fences are erected usually at a height of six feet for screening views from the outside. This line also includes several decorative types, the split chestnut rail fence, the white picket and white board fences.

FENCES ARE SOLD AND installed completely. However, customers may buy fences and use free of any charges all the necessary tools, loaned by Hoosier Fence Company to install their own fences. The company notes that as much as 35 to 40 percent may be saved on installing one's own fence.

Home owners and people buying their homes may use a plan that requires no down payment and very low monthly payments. All types of industrial and domestic fences are on display at the attractive show and salesroom of the firm at 1701 E. 38th.

fftofa19 z mb h wqg HMMFDL
The widely-known firm was founded in 1921. N. E. Boyer is president of the Hoosier Fence Company. His sons, Victor L. Boyer and J. W. Boyer are both vice-presidents of the firm.

The management invites prospective customers or the public to visit the salesroom. Free estimates will be made on any or all fencing jobs involving no obligations on the part of the prospective customer.

Department of Labor figures show that 11,634 minors, including 7,143 in non-agricultural establishments and 4,491 on farms, were employed in violation of the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958.

M. A. Dickerson Can Now Practice Law in Alaska

Mrs. Mahala Ashley Dickerson, a member of the Indiana Bar, was admitted to practice law in Alaska courts last week.

A graduate of Fisk University and Howard University's School of Law, she has also been admitted to the bar in Alabama.

Mrs. Dickerson started her practice here in 1951. She went to successful attorney until she left for Alaska last September.

She has opened her Alaska office at 514 G street, Anchorage. Her admission on reciprocity was delayed when Alaska was granted statehood, necessitating legislative enactment to set up rules for admission to the courts of the new state.

Former Resident Given $3,000 Award for Study

Miss Margaret Danner, a former resident of Indianapolis now residing in Chicago, was recent recipient of a $3,000 John Hay Whitney Fellowship Award. A poetess, she will study aesthetics, African and French art in Detroit, Africa and France.

In requesting the grant, Miss Danner expressed a desire to finish her book of poetry.

The first one-third of her book has been published in recognized literary magazines and read over radio stations on university campuses. In 1945, her work was awarded second prize in the Midwestern Writer's Conference, and in 1957 it was spotlighted at the University of Michigan's seminars on the cultural contribution of the Negro.

One of Chicago's Negro cultural leaders, Miss Danner is polished artistically, sensitive to political and social developments throughout the world.

She is a founder of an African art study group and a writers group and is a life member of the South Side Community Art Center in her home city.

Jazz Club Elects William Stafford As Board Member

William Stafford has been elected to the board of the Indianapolis Jazz club, it was revealed last week. He will assist with directing the club's activities for 1959-60.

Duncan P. Schiedt was named president for the next year at the recent election meeting. Other officers include Warren C. Hudstone, vice-president; William Fletcher Patterson, treasurer, and Don Loving, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fend were named co-editors of the club's monthly publication, Jazz Notes. Other board members are Stan-

School 42 Area To Get New Auxiliary Light

The board of public works promised in recent weeks to place an auxiliary street light in the alley back of School No. 42.

This promise followed presentation of a petition bearing the names of 22 property-holders and residents of the 1000 block of W. 26th.

The idea of seeking adequate street lighting in the block was spearheaded by Alfred Moore Sr., 1048 W. 26th, a civic leader in the area. In the petition, the householders charged that the long, dark block has been the scene of numerous acts of vandalism by young rowdies.

Also, homes in the block have been disturbed by persons bent upon burglary, and cars in the street have been broken into, it was charged.

Mr. Moore and his fellow-petitioners said the poorly-lit block between Rader and Clifton is dangerous for young people and adults alike because of thieves, drunkards and other malevolents.

The one auxiliary street light promised by the board will not afford any relief for householders in the end of the long block nearest Clifton, several householders complained.

However, upon visiting the office of the Board of Safety, Moore was told they should be satisfied with one light near the east end of the block and try to work out the matter of adequate lighting by returning with their grievance during September.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. In Memoriam

ARCHIE HENSLEY
HENSLEY—In loving memory of my husband
ARCHIE HENSLEY who passed away nine years ago July 4.
Gone but never forgotten.
Flora Hensley, Wife.

GEORGE W. MILTON JR.
MILTON—In loving memory of our dear son and brother
GEORGE W. MILTON JR. who passed away July 4, 1957.
Another year has come and gone. Sweet memories of you linger on. The empty chair, the empty space.
And things that time will not erase.
Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers.

WEATHERS—In loving memory of THEODOSHIA M. WEATHERS who passed away July 2, 1958.
One year has passed since that sad day.
When one we loved was called away.
God took her home, it was His will.
Within our hearts she liveth still.
Patrice A. Weathers
Daughter
Mrs. Ida Watkins, Mother and Family.

MR. JAMES B. HORSLEY
HORSLEY—In loving memory of our dear husband and father
JAMES B. HORSLEY who passed away June 30, 1950.
Years go by, but memories stay. As near and dear as yesterday.
THE FAMILY.

HEYWOOD—In loving memory of REV. HARRY L. HEYWOOD who passed away in Chicago, Ill., July 4, 1948.
God sees when the footsteps all falter.
When the pathway has grown too steep.
Then he touches the weary eyes lids.
And gives his dear one sleep.
Sadly missed by The Heywood Family.

POSEY—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother
MRS. LAURA POSEY who passed away June 22, 1955.
How we miss you can't be said. In just a line or two;
Each day a thousand things remind me.
Of the love shared with you.
Mary Wilson, Daughter
Sons and Grandchildren.

WHITE—In loving memory of my friend
CHARLES WHITE who passed away July 5, 1958.
ELLA MATTHEWS.

1. In Memoriam

TED HARRIS, JR.
HARRIS—In loving memory of our dear son and brother
TED HARRIS, JR. who passed away June 30, 1957.
Gone is the son and brother. But not forgotten will he be.
To live with God's sweet angels. In a wonderful land of peace.
The Family.

2. Cords of Thanks

MARTIN—We thank the family of GEORGE W. (BUBBS) MARTIN JR. for their kind and sympathetic, also to acknowledge the many beautiful floral tributes and telegrams extended by our relatives, friends, neighbors, doctors and nurses of Marion General Hospital at the passing of our beloved husband, son and brother.
We especially wish to thank the many blood donors, the Reverends Andrew J. Brown and Snodgrass and the Patton Funeral Home, all for their kind understanding and services rendered wife and family.
THE FAMILY.

SMITH—We wish to acknowledge with deep appreciation the kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral offerings extended by our relatives and friends including neighbors in our time of bereavement. We especially wish to thank those who acted as pallbearers, the minister Dr. P. Benjamin Davis, Employees of L. S. Ayres, Brotherhood, Good Neighborhood Club and the King and King Funeral Home for their kind and beautiful service, and all who sent and prepared the elaborate dishes, keeping the table well supplied. We also thank those who were listed in the fifty-two car procession. Again we wish to thank all who helped in any way.
The Family of
Mr. Samuel Smith
